We welcome papers that treat them as such or that focus on one of the following subjects:

- The presence of Jews and conversos in Portugal, Spain and their colonial spaces: religious and cultural affiliations.
- Jews and conversos in the Atlantic metropolises of Hamburg, Amsterdam, and London: the Mediterranean socioeconomic and cultural background.
- Jews and conversos in the Atlantic colonial spaces: social, religious, political, and cultural issues.
- Migration movements to Africa and America in the 19th and 20th centuries: the (re)encounter with Mediterranean values.
- Cultural production in Diaspora territories: material, oral, and written sources.
- Memories and thoughts about the Mediterranean in the Atlantic area.

Proposals shall be sent till 15 January 2019 filling out the online form at www.centrodehistoria-flul.com/sephardicjews/#form and it shall include: name, title, academic affiliation, abstract in English (maximum 400 words).
