

International Colloquium
Culture, Science and Politics in the Time of the 2nd Viscount of Santarém

Lisbon, Biblioteca Nacional de Portugal, 4th and 5th April 2016

The 2nd Viscount of Santarém– born Lisbon 1791; died Paris 1856– lived during a time that witnessed many profound changes in artistic, literary and cultural sensibilities in various fields of scientific knowledge as well as many divisive alterations to political regimes with the transition, at times brutal, from the Ancien Régime to European and Latin American Liberalism. Europe influenced, and was influenced by, observed, and was observed by a geographically peripheral kingdom, Portugal, where internal upheavals occurred alongside every rich and diverse cultural, scientific, academic and journalistic movements.

Various authors within Portugal and outside wrote about its national past and established a link between the realms of governance, overseas strategy and the scientific discourse of the Discoveries and cartography on one hand, and the traditional courts and the history of diplomatic relations on the other. Being part of a trans-European network of scientific societies, the 2nd Viscount of Santarém maintained a dialogue with renowned national and international scholars. He left an indelible mark on his time, which should be understood within its context, and on the sociabilities, the critical dialogues between authors and the mentality of the age.

The Colloquium seeks to bring together specialists in the fields of Political and Diplomatic History, History of Art, Cultural History, Historiography, the History of Geography and the History of Cartography in order to discuss and open up new areas of study and research about the backgrounds, cultural contexts and sociability networks which frame the Time of the 2nd Viscount of Santarém and with which he coexisted, into other scientific European cultures, through a comparative analysis and perspective.

Proposals are invited for the following four thematic panels, each revolving around the 2nd Viscount of Santarém: (1) Bio-bibliographic and iconographic sources about the 2nd Viscount of Santarém; (2) Sociabilities, institutions and scientific networks in which he participated; (3) Impact and importance of his works for Diplomatic History, Political History and Institutional History; (4) Contributions made by the 2nd Viscount of Santarém to the History of Geography, the History of Cartography and the History of the Memory of the Discoveries.

Proposals are also invited that relate to the Viscount of Santarém's time (first half of the 19th century), in particular: (1) The political context; (2) Scientific traditions; (3) Cultural currents; (4) Relations between Portugal and Europe.

Abstracts (max. 2000 characters) together with a brief summary of the proposer's academic background (max. 1500 characters) should be submitted by 15 November 2015 to coloquio.visconde.santarem@gmail.com. Proposers will be notified by 8 December 2015.

Working languages: Portuguese, English, French and Spanish

Scientific Committee:

António Vasconcelos de Saldanha (Department of History, University of Macau) - Armando Malheiro da Silva (Faculty of Letters, University of Porto) - Daniel Estudante Protásio (CEIS20, University of Coimbra and CH, University of Lisbon/ FCT fellow) - Francisco Contente Domingues (Centre of History, University of Lisbon) - Francisco Roque de Oliveira (CEG-IGOT, University of Lisbon) - Maria Manuela Tavares Ribeiro (CEIS20, University of Coimbra) - Sandra Rebok (Institute of History–Spanish National Research Council/CSIC) - Sérgio Campos Matos (Centre of History, University of Lisbon) - Temístocles Cezar (Federal University of Rio Grande do Sul, Brazil) - Valdeci Lopes Araujo (Federal University of Ouro Preto, Brazil)

Organizing Committee:

Armando Norte (CH, University of Lisbon / FLUL-CH-ULisbonfellow) - Daniel Estudante Protásio (coord.) - Francisco Roque de Oliveira - Maria Joaquina Feijão (Portuguese National Library) - Jonathan Felix Lopes (CEG-IGOT, University of Lisbon / CAPESScholar) - Marco de Oliveira Borges (CH and CEG-IGOT, University of Lisbon / PIUDHistscholar) - Miguel Castelo-Branco (Portuguese National Library) - Ricardo de Brito (ICS and CH, University of Lisbon / FCTfellow)

Coordination: Centre of History of the University of Lisbon – centro.his@letras.ulisboa.pt